

Pro. Graves thinks he will sail tomorrow week for N. Orleans. A very decent Yankee Capt. with a comfortable vessel offers to take him for $100.

We shall be sorry to part with him, but he thinks he must go.

He goes to Spa. Town tomorrow to spend the Sabb.

Miss C. will receive two letters along with yours.

I had a letter from Mr.
Reishaw only. He speaks of his future course as dubious. It is very letters & a copy, each ^{of the} to "Am. Missy" & Thompson.

A box of books has come for Mr. Newhall which I have written about to him.

You will be rejoiced to find in the "Am. Missy" that Bro. Wolcott though on the dismasted vessel was safely landed at Newliston.
Bro. P. says he will sail thence to Jamaica. So we may look for him daily.
Letters &c. were sent by Bro. M. which we will get when he comes.

Bro. P's mother is dead. perhaps he has informed you.
It seems that near 1000$ have been collected for the W. I. M. I hope the brethren will be cheered by this.

anytime you think a return to Kingston would do you good, or be better for you than the Tent, dont fail to let us know & we will help you down.

I am happy in being able to send you precisely two letters & a lot of papers the latter denuded of their wrappers by hungry news-loving folks about the Tent. I have no doubt some have taken a full meal out of them, but I am obliged to start with an abundance before me. I must therefore beg that when you have taken your fill you will allow me to gather the crumbs.

Dear Br. Phelps

I have received your note for Charlotte & can sympathize fully with you & the people in your & their trying circumstances.

I fear, however, that it will not be my privilege to relieve you or be with you on the approaching Sabbath. The packet sails on Monday & it is very important that I send letters by her. Saturday you know is almost my only time for writing.

I am sorry to hear that you do not make much advance in overcoming your bodily ailments. If at
